

TGA (Thermogravimetry Analysis)

The TGA is an instrument for measuring mass change of a sample when it is heated. It can be used for determining, for example, the mass loss due to thermal decomposition as well as the onset temperature of the decomposition.

The temperature range of our TGA is room temperature (around 25°C) to 1000°C.